

A man wandering around looking for a place to die,
carrying the remains of his dead wife.

In Yamaga, a town with an old atmosphere,
he sees a resemblance of his wife, Yukari, to a woman in a “lantern girl” poster for a festival.
Yamaga lanterns are elaborate traditional Japanese crafts
made from washi paper.
Fascinated by its beauty, the man starts working as an apprentice
to a lantern craftsman, but it doesn't stop him from feeling lonely and lost.
A year passes with his wife's ashes still in his possession.
On the day of the lantern festival,
he decides to leave the town.
But then, a woman who claims to be Yukari's twin sister, Akari,
appears and tells the man,
"I want to ask a favor of you."
Around the same time,
strange phenomena occur around him.
